General John C. Meyer
Commander in Chief
Strategic Air Command
Offutt Air Force Base, Nebraska 68113

Dear General Meyer:

For some years now at the invitation of your predecessors, we have sent our Midcareer classes to visit Strategic Air Command Headquarters and various subordinate missile sites. The visits point up the importance of SAC, the responsibilities of the Deputy Chief of Staff, Intelligence, and the realities of our offensive missile power. I want to thank you for the briefings, tours, and warm hospitality shown our students on their recent visit on 5 - 7 June 1972.

Please extend our appreciation to Colonel Dante E. Bulli for an outstanding program at the Headquarters and to Colonel Grover C. Graves, Jr. and Lieutenant Colonel Joseph G. Turner, Jr. at Minot Air Force Base for their briefings and tours. The class members particularly remarked on the friendliness and competence of the officers at Minot who readily answered all student questions. The informal dinner arranged by Colonel Turner was an additional, welcome touch.

I consider these visits, to see firsthand the Air Force command and control methods and "hardware," an important part of our Midcareer Course and hope they can continue.

Sincerely,

/s/
Vernon A. Walters
